

Engineering Leadership and CTO

- Being a CTO

Being a CTO

Being a CTO is interesting and is probably different in every company. It is also a role that changes and transforms with the size of a company. My journey as a CTO since 2016 has been very interesting and challenging in different dimensions.

Resources for CTOs

Blogs and Newsletters

- Vadim Kravcenko - a CTO at a digital agency in Zurich who writes content about his experiences and offers insight and guidance into technical and organisational challenges.
- Will Larson - a serial engineering executive with experience at Calm, Uber, Stripe and Digg. I also like some of his books.
